Probity Advisors, Inc. offers the following advisory services to our clients:

Investment Supervisory Services ("ISS") - Individual Portfolio Management

Our firm provides continuous advice to a client regarding the investment of client funds based on the individual needs of the client. Through personal discussions and/or questionnaires in which goals and objectives based on a client's particular circumstances are established, we develop a client's investment profile and create and manage a portfolio based on that profile. During our data-gathering process, we determine the client's individual objectives, time horizons, risk tolerance, and liquidity needs. As appropriate, we also review and discuss a client's prior investment history, as well as family composition and background.

We manage these advisory accounts on a discretionary basis. Account supervision is guided by the client's stated objectives (i.e., retirement income, ultra conservative, conservative, moderate conservative, moderate, moderate aggressive, aggressive), as well as tax considerations.

Clients may impose reasonable restrictions on investing in certain securities, types of securities, or industry sectors.

Our investment recommendations are not limited to any specific product or service offered by a broker-dealer or insurance company and will generally include advice regarding the following securities:

- Exchange-listed securities
- Securities traded over-the-counter
- Foreign issuers
- Warrants
- Corporate debt securities (other than commercial paper)
- Commercial paper
- Certificates of deposit
- Municipal securities
- Variable life insurance
- Variable annuities
- Mutual fund shares
- United States governmental securities
- Options contracts on securities
- Futures contracts on intangibles
- Interests in partnerships investing in real estate

- Interests in partnerships investing in oil and gas interests

Because some types of investments involve certain additional degrees of risk, they will only be implemented/recommended when consistent with the client's stated investment objectives, tolerance for risk, liquidity, and suitability.

Probity Advisors, Inc. provides clients with professional, discretionary portfolio management services through one of four investment platforms: The Advantage Platform, The Tactical Allocation Platform, The Diversified Income Platform, and The Fixed Income Platform.

Advantage Platform: The Probity Advantage Platform is designed for investors who prefer an active portfolio approach. Our in-house research staff will select individual stocks, fixed income and other exchanged traded securities to create a portfolio tailored to satisfy the client's risk profile, time horizon, tax budget, short-term and long-term tax rates, transaction costs, and/or any ESG requirements. Qualifying accounts start at $250,000.

Tactical Allocation Program: Probity's Tactical Allocation Platform is designed for investors who seek a professionally managed, dynamically rebalanced portfolio that utilizes exchange traded securities. Like the Advantage Platform, the individual investor's buy and sell constraints, transaction costs, short-term and long-term tax rates, tax budget, time horizon and risk profile are all taken into consideration in building the portfolio. Qualifying accounts start at $10,000.

Diversified Income Platform: Probity Diversified Income Platform is designed to provide a growing stream of income from a diverse set of securities types, ranging from dividend paying, large cap domestic equities to emerging market bond funds. Unlike a typical fixed income strategy, this platform takes an active approach towards income replacement, balancing a client's current income need against their growing spending requirements over time. The portfolio may be more volatile than more traditional income strategies, making it suitable for investors who are comfortable balancing growth and income. Qualifying accounts start at $250,000.

Fixed Income Platform: Probity Advisors' Fixed Income Platform is a discretionary fixed income program designed for investors seeking current income and/or capital appreciation through investments in debt securities. Our portfolio managers work with the client to design strategies tailored to meet their specific spending needs, safety of principal requirements and asset allocation demands. Fixed Income strategies may include, but are not limited to, laddered, bullet, barbell, cash flow matching or liability immunization and the resulting portfolio may hold underlying securities that include, but are not limited to, US treasuries, agencies, foreign government obligations, domestic corporate bonds, commercial paper, high yield bonds, ETFs and/or closed end funds. Qualifying accounts start at $100,000.

Asset Builder Platform: Probity Advisors' Asset Builder Platform is our entry level product for the investor seeking to begin building their savings. This platform may invest in ETFs, mutual funds or other assets to efficiently achieve the investor's selected risk tolerance. This portfolio is rebalanced using quantitative metrics to adhere to the designed allocation and anticipated drift parameters established for each risk level. The Asset Builder Platform has no minimum, but does not provide customization or regular, individualized review.

Annuity Allocation Services

Client may grant Probity Advisors discretion to: (a) select investment strategy allocations for client's existing or new annuity products; and (b) allocate among the investment strategy allocations available from the specific annuity sponsor (collectively (a) and (b) are referred to as the "Annuity Allocation Services"). In performing Annuity Allocation Services, Probity Advisors will only consider the options available within the specific annuity purchased by the client. If an annuity was purchased with retirement account assets, Probity Advisors does not exercise discretionary control with respect to the purchase of the annuity for the client. Any changes in client's annuity investments (reallocations among investment strategy allocations) are subject to the terms and conditions imposed by the applicable annuity sponsor.

Retirement Plan Advisory Services

As an ERISA Section 3(21) fiduciary, we do not have authority to make and implement fiduciary decisions for the plan. The plan sponsor is responsible for the selection and monitoring of the 3(21) investment manager and implementation of any of the 3(21) investment manager's investment recommendations, and assumes responsibility and liability for any overriding decisions made by the plan sponsor.

Plan Sponsors or trustees may also elect to appoint Probity as a 3(38) fiduciary investment manager. Under this arrangement, we draft the IPS, accept discretion over plan assets, and assume responsibility for the fiduciary functions related to the investment options available to plan participants and the ongoing monitoring and documentation requirements under ERISA.

The fee is calculated and billed in accordance with the annuity sponsor's procedures and systems. Probity Advisors' advisory fee is separate from, and in addition to, the management fees and expenses charged on a continuing basis by the annuity sponsor, insurance company, and/or underlying investment vehicle. Annuities have inherent risks, will fluctuate in value, incur losses based on the performance of selected investments or investment strategy allocations, are suitable only as long-term investments, and should not be viewed as short-term trading vehicles. Clients should carefully review the prospectus and other offering documents for more information on annuities.

Retirement Plan Advisory Services Fees

Investment advisory fees are negotiated based on total plan assets. Retirement plan and plan participants may be subject to additional fees or expenses for record keeping, ERISA testing, third party representative fees, mutual funds, custodian, or broker-dealer services. These charges are more fully disclosed by those parties directly. Probity Advisors' compensation is strictly limited to the fee disclosed in the plan's advisory agreement.

Plan accounts are billed based on the qualified custodian and/or administrator's policies designated by the client. In cases where plan sponsors allow participants access to a brokerage window and those participants elect to use Probity Advisors, Inc. as the investment advisor on their brokerage account, those accounts may be billed quarterly consistent with the product platform selected.

Probity Advisors, Inc.'s Financial Planning fee will be determined based on the nature of the services being provided and the complexity of each client's circumstances.

Our Financial Planning fees are calculated and charged on an hourly basis, ranging from $100 to $250 per hour. Although the length of time it will take to provide a Financial Plan will depend on each client's personal situation, we will provide an estimate for the total hours at the start of the advisory relationship.

We may request a retainer upon completion of our initial fact-finding session with the client; however, advance payment will never exceed $500 for work that will not be completed within six months. The balance is due upon completion of the plan.

Consulting Services Fees

Probity Advisors, Inc.'s Consulting Services fee will be determined based on the nature of the services being provided and the complexity of each client's circumstances. All fees are specified in a separate consulting agreement signed by the client.

Our Consulting Services fees are calculated and charged on an hourly basis, ranging from $100 to $250 per hour. An estimate for the total hours is determined at the start of the advisory relationship.

Related persons of our firm are also licensed insurance agents. These individuals can implement insurance recommendations that may be identified during a financial planning engagement for which those individuals will receive separate and typical compensation (i.e., commissions or other sales-related forms of compensation). This presents a potential conflict of interest to the extent that their advisory recommendations could result in additional compensation being received by the related individual. Clients are not under any obligation to engage these individuals when considering implementation of advisory recommendations. The implementation of any or all recommendations is solely at the discretion of the client.

General Information

Termination of the Advisory Relationship: A client agreement may be canceled at any time, by either party, for any reason upon receipt of written notice. As disclosed above, certain fees are paid in advance of services provided. Upon termination of any account, any prepaid, unearned fees will be refunded at the next quarterly cycle. In calculating a client's reimbursement of fees, we will pro rate the reimbursement according to the number of days remaining in the billing period.

Mutual Fund Fees: All fees paid to Probity Advisors, Inc. for investment advisory services are separate and distinct from the fees and expenses charged by mutual funds and/or ETFs to their shareholders. These fees and expenses are described in each fund's prospectus. These fees will generally include a management fee, other fund expenses, and a possible distribution fee. If the fund also imposes sales charges, a client may pay an initial or deferred sales charge. A client could invest in a mutual fund directly, without our services. In that case, the client would not receive the services provided by our firm which are designed, among other things, to assist the client in determining which mutual fund or funds are most appropriate to each client's financial condition and objectives. Accordingly, the client should review both the fees charged by the funds and our fees to fully understand the total amount of fees to be paid by the client and to thereby evaluate the advisory services being provided.

Additional Fees and Expenses: In addition to our advisory fees, clients are also responsible for the fees and expenses charged by custodians and imposed by broker dealers, including, but not limited to, any transaction charges imposed by a broker dealer with which an independent investment manager effects transactions for the client's account(s). Please refer to the "Brokerage Practices" section (Item 12) of this Form ADV for additional information.

ERISA Accounts: Probity Advisors, Inc. is deemed to be a fiduciary to advisory clients that are employee benefit plans or individual retirement accounts (IRAs) pursuant to the Employee Retirement Income and Securities Act ("ERISA"). As such, our firm is subject to specific duties and obligations under ERISA and the Internal Revenue Code that include, among other things, restrictions concerning certain forms of compensation. To avoid engaging in prohibited transactions, Probity Advisors, Inc. may only charge fees for investment advice about products for which our firm and/or our related persons do not receive any commissions or 12b-1 fees, or conversely, investment advice about products for which our firm and/or our related persons receive commissions or 12b-1 fees, however, only when such fees are used to offset Probity Advisors, Inc.'s advisory fees.

ITEM 8 METHODS OF ANALYSIS, INVESTMENT STRATEGIES AND RISK OF LOSS

Methods of Analysis

We use the following methods of analysis in formulating our investment advice and/or managing client assets:

Charting. In this type of technical analysis, we review charts of market and security activity in an attempt to identify when the market is moving up or down and to predict when how long the trend may last and when that trend might reverse.

Fundamental Analysis. We attempt to measure the intrinsic value of a security by looking at economic and financial factors (including the overall economy, industry conditions, and the financial condition and management of the company itself) to determine if the company is underpriced (indicating it may be a good time to buy) or overpriced (indicating it may be time to sell).

Fundamental analysis does not attempt to anticipate market movements. This presents a potential risk, as the price of a security can move up or down along with the overall market regardless of the economic and financial factors considered in evaluating the stock.

Technical Analysis. We analyze past market movements and apply that analysis to the present in an attempt to recognize recurring patterns of investor behavior and potentially predict future price movement.

Technical analysis does not consider the underlying financial condition of a company. This presents a risk in that a poorly managed or financially unsound company may underperform regardless of market movement.

Cyclical Analysis. In this type of technical analysis, we measure the movements of a particular stock against the overall market in an attempt to predict the price movement of the security.

Quantitative Analysis. We use mathematical models in an attempt to obtain more accurate measurements of a company's quantifiable data, such as the value of a share price or earnings per share and predict changes to that data.

A risk in using quantitative analysis is that the models used may be based on assumptions that prove to be incorrect.

Qualitative Analysis. We subjectively evaluate non-quantifiable factors such as quality of management, labor relations, and strength of research and development factors not readily subject to measurement and predict changes to share price based on that data.

A risk is using qualitative analysis is that our subjective judgment may prove incorrect.

Asset Allocation. Rather than focusing primarily on securities selection, we attempt to identify an appropriate ratio of securities, fixed income, and cash suitable to the client's investment goals and risk tolerance.

A risk of asset allocation is that the client may not participate in sharp increases in a particular security, industry, or market sector. Another risk is that the ratio of securities, fixed income, and cash will change over time due to stock and market movements and, if not corrected, will no longer be appropriate for the client's goals.

Mutual Fund and/or ETF Analysis. We look at the experience and track record of the manager of the mutual fund or ETF in an attempt to determine if that manager has demonstrated an ability to invest over a period of time and in different economic conditions. We also monitor the funds or ETFs in an attempt to determine if they are continuing to follow their stated investment strategy.

A risk of mutual fund and/or ETF analysis is that, as in all securities investments, past performance does not guarantee future results. A manager who has been successful may not be able to replicate that success in the future. In addition, as we do not control the underlying investments in a fund or ETF, managers of different funds held by the client may purchase the same security, increasing the risk to the client if that security were to fall in value. There is also a risk that a manager may deviate from the stated investment mandate or strategy of the fund or ETF, which could make the holding(s) less suitable for the client's portfolio.

Third-Party Money Manager Analysis. We examine the experience, expertise, investment philosophies, and past performance of independent third-party investment managers in an attempt to determine if that manager has demonstrated an ability to invest over a period of time and in different economic conditions. We monitor the manager's underlying holdings, strategies, concentrations, and leverage as part of our overall periodic risk assessment. Additionally, as part of our due-diligence process, we survey the manager's compliance and business enterprise risks.

A risk of investing with a third-party manager who has been successful in the past is that he/she may not be able to replicate that success in the future. In addition, as we do not control the underlying investments in a third-party manager's portfolio, there is also a risk that a manager may deviate from the stated investment mandate or strategy of the portfolio, making it a less suitable investment for our clients. Moreover, as we do not control the manager's daily business and compliance operations, we may be unaware of the lack of internal controls necessary to prevent business, regulatory or reputational deficiencies.

Risks for all forms of analysis. Our securities analysis methods rely on the assumption that the companies whose securities we purchase and sell, the rating agencies that review these securities, and other publicly available sources of information about these securities, are providing accurate and unbiased data. While we are alert to indications that data may be incorrect, there is always a risk that our analysis may be compromised by inaccurate or misleading information.

Investment Strategies

We use the following strategies in managing client accounts, provided that such strategies are appropriate to the needs of the client and consistent with the client's investment objectives, risk tolerance, and time horizons, among other considerations:

Long-term purchases. We purchase securities with the idea of holding them in the client's account for a year or longer. Typically, we employ this strategy when:

- we believe the securities to be currently undervalued, and/or
- we want exposure to a particular asset class over time, regardless of the current projection for this class.

A risk in a long-term purchase strategy is that by holding the security for this length of time, we may not take advantage of short-term gains that could be profitable to a client. Moreover, if our predictions are incorrect, a security may decline sharply in value before we make the decision to sell.

Short-term purchases. When utilizing this strategy, we purchase securities with the idea of selling them within a relatively short time (typically a year or less). We do this in an attempt to take advantage of conditions that we believe will soon result in a price swing in the securities we purchase.

Trading. We purchase securities with the idea of selling them very quickly (typically within 30 days or less). We do this in an attempt to take advantage of our predictions of brief price swings.

Option writing. We may use options as an investment strategy. An option is a contract that gives the buyer the right, but not the obligation, to buy or sell an asset (such as a share of stock) at a specific price on or before a certain date. An option, just like a stock or bond, is a security. An option is also a derivative because it derives its value from an underlying asset.

The two types of options are calls and puts:

- A call gives us the right to buy an asset at a certain price within a specific period of time. We will buy a call if we have determined that the stock will increase substantially before the option expires.
- A put gives us the right to sell an asset at a certain price within a specific period of time. We will buy a put if we have determined that the price of the stock will fall before the option expires.

We will use options to speculate on the possibility of a sharp price swing. We will also use options to "hedge" a purchase of the underlying security; in other words, we will use an option purchase to limit the potential upside and downside of a security we have purchased for your portfolio.

We use "covered calls", in which we sell an option on a security you own. In this strategy, you receive a fee for making the option available, and the person purchasing the option has the right to buy the security from you at an agreed-upon price.

We use a "spreading strategy", in which we purchase two or more option contracts (for example, a call option that you buy and a call option that you sell) for the same underlying security. This effectively puts you on both sides of the market, but with the ability to vary price, time, and other factors.

Risk of Loss. Securities investments are not guaranteed, and you may lose money on your investments. We ask that you work with us to help us understand your tolerance for risk.

ITEM 11 CODE OF ETHICS, PARTICIPATION OR INTEREST IN CLIENT TRANSACTIONS AND PERSONAL TRADING

Our firm has adopted a Code of Ethics which sets forth high ethical standards of business conduct that we require of our employees, including compliance with applicable federal securities laws.

Probity Advisors, Inc. and our personnel owe a duty of loyalty, fairness, and good faith towards our clients, and have an obligation to adhere not only to the specific provisions of the Code of Ethics but to the general principles that guide the Code.

Our Code of Ethics includes policies and procedures for the review of quarterly securities transactions reports as well as initial and ongoing securities holdings reports that must be submitted by the firm's access persons. Among other things, our Code of Ethics also requires the prior approval of any acquisition of securities in a limited offering (e.g., private placement) or an initial public offering. Our code also provides for oversight, enforcement and recordkeeping provisions.

Probity Advisors, Inc.'s Code of Ethics further includes the firm's policy prohibiting the use of material non-public information. While we do not believe that we have any particular access to non-public information, all employees are reminded that such information may not be used in a personal or professional capacity.

A copy of our Code of Ethics is available to our advisory clients and prospective clients. You may request a copy by email sent to csorrow@probityadvisors.com, or by calling us at 214-891-8131.

Probity Advisors, Inc. and individuals associated with our firm are prohibited from engaging in principal transactions.

Probity Advisors, Inc. and individuals associated with our firm are prohibited from engaging in agency cross transactions.

Our Code of Ethics is designed to ensure that the personal securities transactions, activities and interests of our employees will not interfere with (i) making decisions in the best interest of advisory clients and (ii) implementing such decisions while, at the same time, allowing employees to invest for their own accounts.

Our firm and/or individuals associated with our firm may buy or sell for their personal accounts securities identical to or different from those recommended to our clients. In addition, any related person(s) may have an interest or position in a certain security(ies) which may also be recommended to a client.

We may aggregate our employee trades with client transactions where possible and when compliant with our duty to seek best execution for our clients. In these instances, participating clients will receive an average share price and transaction costs will be shared equally and on a pro-rata basis. In the instances where there is a partial fill of a particular batched order, we will allocate all purchases pro-rata, with each account paying the average price. Our employee accounts will be included in the pro-rata allocation.

As these situations represent actual or potential conflicts of interest to our clients, we have established the following policies and procedures for implementing our firm's Code of Ethics, to ensure our firm complies with its regulatory obligations and provides our clients and potential clients with full and fair disclosure of such conflicts of interest:

1. No principal or employee of our firm may put his or her own interest above the interest of an advisory client.
2. No principal or employee of our firm may buy or sell securities for their personal portfolio(s) where their decision is a result of information received as a result of his or her employment unless the information is also available to the investing public.
3. We have established procedures for the maintenance of all required books and records.
4. All of our principals and employees must act in accordance with all applicable Federal and State regulations governing registered investment advisory practices.
5. We require delivery and acknowledgement of the Code of Ethics by each supervised person of our firm.
6. We have established policies requiring the reporting of Code of Ethics violations to our senior management.
7. Any individual who violates any of the above restrictions may be subject to termination.

As disclosed in the preceding section of this Brochure (Item 10), related persons of our firm are separately registered as, investment adviser representatives of another registered investment adviser and/or broker dealer, and/or licensed as an insurance agent/broker of various insurance companies. Please refer to Item 10 for a detailed explanation of these relationships and important conflict of interest disclosures.

ITEM 12 BROKERAGE PRACTICES

Probity Advisors, Inc. does not have any soft-dollar arrangements and does not receive any soft-dollar benefits.

Probity Advisors, Inc. does not accept directed brokerage instructions.

Probity Advisors, Inc. will block trades where possible and when advantageous to clients. This blocking of trades permits the trading of aggregate blocks of securities composed of assets from multiple client accounts, so long as transaction costs are shared equally and on a pro-rated basis between all accounts included in any such block.

Block trading may allow us to execute equity trades in a timelier, more equitable manner, at an average share price. Probity Advisors, Inc. will typically aggregate trades among clients whose accounts can be traded at a given broker, and generally will simultaneously place trades across all brokers for clients on any particular day. Probity Advisors, Inc.'s block trading policy and procedures are as follows:

- 1) The trading desk in concert with the portfolio manager must determine that the purchase or sale of the particular security involved is appropriate for the client and consistent with the client's investment objectives and with any investment guidelines or restrictions applicable to the client's account.
- 2) The portfolio manager must reasonably believe that the order aggregation will benefit, and will enable Probity Advisors, Inc. to seek best execution for each client participating in the aggregated order. This requires a good faith judgment at the time the order is placed for the execution. It does not mean that the determination made in advance of the transaction must always prove to have been correct in the light of a "20-20 hindsight" perspective. Best execution includes the duty to seek the best quality of execution, as well as the best net price.
- 3) Prior to entry of an aggregated order, a written or "electronic" order ticket is completed which identifies each client account participating in the order and the proposed allocation of the order, upon completion, to those clients.
- 4) If the order cannot be executed in full, the securities actually purchased or sold by the close of each business day must be allocated pro rata among the participating client accounts in accordance with the initial order ticket or other written statement of allocation. However, adjustments to this pro rata allocation may be made to participating client accounts in accordance with the initial order ticket or other written statement of allocation. Furthermore, adjustments to this pro rata allocation may be made to avoid having odd amounts of shares held in any client account, or to avoid excessive ticket charges in smaller accounts, or for other common-sense reasons. Typically orders that are not executed in full will be allocated on a pro-rata basis with any residual shares allocated to accounts for which the residual allocation will have the most de minimis impact to the client's security allocation relative to the resulting allocation of other accounts participating in the block trade.

5) Generally, each client that participates in the aggregated order must do so at the average price for all separate transactions made to fill the order and must share in the commissions on a pro rata basis in proportion to the client's participation. Under the client's agreement with the custodian/broker, transaction costs may be based on the number of shares traded for each client.

6) If the order will be allocated in a manner different than the policy noted above, a written explanation of the change must be provided to and approved by the Chief Compliance Officer no later than the morning following the execution of the aggregate trade.

7) Probity Advisors, Inc.'s client account records separately reflect, for each account in which the aggregated transaction occurred, the securities which are held by, and bought and sold for that account.

8) Funds and securities for aggregated orders are clearly identified on Probity Advisors, Inc.'s records and to the broker-dealers or other intermediaries handling the transactions, by the appropriate account numbers for each participating client.

9) No client or account will be favored over another.

Probity Advisors, Inc. may recommend that clients establish brokerage accounts with certain Broker Dealers and/or Custodians. Probity Advisors, Inc. currently contracts with Fidelity Investments and Charles Schwab (Custodians) for custodial services and Fidelity Investments and Charles Schwab (Broker Dealers) for brokerage services. Probity believes Custodians' and Broker Dealers' pricing and services are competitive with other available brokerage and custodial options in the marketplace. Probity does not receive commissions for trades directed through Custodians or Broker Dealers nor does Probity have the authority to determine the commission rate paid. Although we may recommend that clients establish accounts at Custodians, it is the client's decision where to custody assets. Probity Advisors, Inc. is independently owned and operated and not affiliated with Custodians or Broker Dealers.

These Custodians and Broker Dealers provide Probity Advisors, Inc. with access to their institutional trading and custody services, which are typically not available to retail investors. These services generally are available to independent investment advisers on an unsolicited basis, at no charge to them so long as a pre-set minimum of the adviser's clients' assets are maintained in accounts at these Custodians and Broker Dealers. These services are contingent upon our firm committing to these Custodians and Broker Dealers any specific amount of business (assets in custody or trading commissions). These Broker Dealers' brokerage services may include the execution of securities transactions, custody, research, and access to mutual funds and other investments that are otherwise generally available only to institutional investors or would require a significantly higher minimum initial investment.

For our client accounts maintained in its custody, Custodians or other qualified custodians may charge account holders separately for custody services and are also compensated through flat custody fees, margin, cash balances, securities lending, commissions and other transaction-related or asset-based fees for securities trades that are executed through or that settle into these Custodians accounts.

Custodians and Broker Dealers also make available to our firm other products and services that benefit Probity Advisors, Inc. but may not directly benefit our clients' accounts. Many of these products and services may be used to service all or some substantial number of our client accounts.

Custodians and Broker Dealers' products and services that assist us in managing and administering our clients' accounts include software and other technology that

- i. provide access to client account data (such as trade confirmations and account statements);
- ii. facilitate trade execution and allocate aggregated trade orders for multiple client accounts;

- iii. provide research, pricing and other market data;
- iv. facilitate payment of our fees from clients' accounts; and
- v. assist with back-office functions, recordkeeping, and client reporting.

Custodians and Broker Dealers also offer other services intended to help us manage and further develop our business enterprise. These services may include:

- compliance, legal and business consulting;
- publications and conferences on practice management and business succession; and
- access to employee benefits providers, human capital consultants and insurance providers.

Custodians and Broker Dealers may make available, arrange and/or pay third-party vendors for the types of services rendered to Probita Advisors, Inc. Custodians and Broker Dealers may discount or waive fees they would otherwise charge for some of these services or pay all or a part of the fees of a third-party providing these services to our firm. Custodians and Broker Dealers may also provide other benefits such as educational events or occasional business entertainment of our personnel. In evaluating whether to recommend or require that clients custody their assets at Custodians or other qualified custodians, we may take into account the availability of some of the foregoing products and services and other arrangements as part of the total mix of factors we consider and not solely on the nature, cost or quality of custody and brokerage services provided by Custodians and Broker Dealers, other qualified custodians, which may create a potential conflict of interest.

REPORTS: These client accounts will receive reports as contracted for at the inception of the advisory relationship.

ITEM 14 CLIENT REFERRALS AND OTHER COMPENSATION

Client Referrals

Our firm may pay referral fees to independent persons or firms ("Solicitors") for introducing clients to us. Whenever we pay a referral fee, we require the Solicitor to provide the prospective client with a copy of this document (our Firm Brochure) and a disclosure statement that includes the following information:

- the Solicitor's name and relationship with our firm;
- the fact that the Solicitor is being paid a referral fee;
- the amount of the fee; and
- whether the fee paid to us by the client will be increased above our normal fees in order to compensate the Solicitor.

Probity Advisors, Inc. may solicit client accounts directly, in which case the customers are considered Probity direct clients, or indirectly through Solicitors. Clients that are introduced to Probity through Solicitors are considered introduced accounts and the Solicitors investment representative may receive negotiated compensation for their advisory services and/or referral. If the client has a direct account, Probity may assign a Probity Investment Advisor representative to the account who may assess an internal representative fee, the amount of which may vary and is disclosed in the account application. All client accounts are managed utilizing the same research, trading, accounting, and portfolio management systems regardless of the means of introduction to Probity Advisors, Inc.

It is Probity Advisors, Inc.'s policy not to accept or allow our related persons to accept any form of compensation, including cash, sales awards or other prizes, from a non-client in conjunction with the advisory services we provide to our clients.

ITEM 15 CUSTODY

We previously disclosed in the "Fees and Compensation" section (Item 5) of this Brochure that our firm directly debits advisory fees from client accounts.

As part of this billing process, the client's custodian is advised of the amount of the fee to be deducted from that client's account. On at least a quarterly basis, the custodian is required to send to the client a statement showing all transactions within the account during the reporting period.

Because the custodian does not calculate the amount of the fee to be deducted, it is important for clients to carefully review their custodial statements to verify the accuracy of the calculation, among other things. Clients are urged to compare the custodial statements with the quarterly account statements and online transaction information provided by Probity Advisors, Inc. Clients should contact us directly if they believe that there may be an error in their statement.

Our firm does not have actual or constructive custody of client accounts.

ITEM 16 INVESTMENT DISCRETION

Clients may hire us to provide discretionary asset management services, in which case we place trades in a client's account without contacting the client prior to each trade to obtain the client's permission.

Our discretionary authority includes the ability to do the following without contacting the client:

- Determine the security to buy or sell; and/or
- Determine the amount of the security to buy or sell

Clients give us discretionary authority when they sign a discretionary agreement with our firm and may limit this authority by giving us written instructions. Clients may also change/amend such limitations by once again providing us with written instructions.

ITEM 17 VOTING CLIENT SECURITIES

As a matter of firm policy, we do not vote proxies on behalf of clients. Therefore, although our firm may provide investment advisory services relative to client investment assets, clients maintain exclusive responsibility for: (1) directing the manner in which proxies solicited by issuers of securities beneficially owned by the client shall be voted, and (2) making all elections relative to any mergers, acquisitions, tender offers, bankruptcy proceedings or other type events pertaining to the client's investment assets. Clients are responsible for instructing each custodian of the assets, to forward to the client copies of all proxies and shareholder communications relating to the client's investment assets.

Probity Advisors, Inc. will communicate and consult with clients to help them formulate their own opinions with regards to what actions to take with respect to proxies. Furthermore, we may assist the client in fulfilling the technical aspects of the proxy, but the client retains responsibility for its fulfillment.

ITEM 18 FINANCIAL INFORMATION

Probity Advisors, Inc. has no additional financial circumstances to report.

Under no circumstances do we require or solicit payment of fees more than six months in advance of services rendered. Therefore, we are not required to include a financial statement. Probity Advisors, Inc. has no financial condition that is likely to impair our ability to meet contractual commitments to our clients.

Probity Advisors, Inc. has never been the subject of a bankruptcy petition.
